

HAINES FALLS

Visitors Flocking to Hotels in the Cool Air of the Mountains.

Haines Falls, N. Y., June 24.—"Fairly-land," "The Eden of the Catskills," "Mountain Paradise" and various other terms have often been used in an effort to describe Haines Falls. Words fail to do justice to this beautiful village, so delightfully located in the heart of the prettiest part of America.

The site of Haines Falls is ideal, the country surrounding it containing nearly all of the points of interest that have for many years made the Catskills the greatest mountain resort in the world. The fame of the scenery around Haines Falls has travelled around the world, and its visitors during the summer season represent practically every civilized country on the globe. Lying twenty-two hundred feet above sea level, the air is clear and cool, the water is free from germs and there is absolute freedom from malaria and mosquitoes—in fact, a mosquito found in this part of the Catskills would be looked upon as a curiosity.

The season here is longer than at any other resort in the Catskills, because the cottagers arrive early and depart late, so that Haines Falls has been busy since early in May, and to-night it has more summer visitors registered at its hotels and boarding houses than any other place in the Catskills Mountains.

Arrangements are under way here this week for a Fourth of July celebration that will eclipse all previous affairs of its kind, and that is expected to bring a number of visitors here for the national holiday.

The Laurel House, one of the handsomest houses here, has been doing more than the usual amount of June business, and is looking forward to an unusually busy July and August.

Mrs. J. E. Haines, who has resumed the management of the Sunset View House, is having a busy season.

There are several people comfortably quartered at the Gem of the Catskills.

Louise Long has among its late arrivals Mrs. T. Long and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Carroll, of New York City; Miss Elsie Geyer and Miss Hulda C. Rothwell, of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. George S. Duncan, of Washington; Mr. W. W. Washburn and family, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Commons, of Porto Rico, W. I.

The Haines Falls arrivals include Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Glanville and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stephens, of Brooklyn; John S. Wallis, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Cantwell, Miss Bella Cantwell, Clifford Cantwell, Albert Picard and Richard Picard, of New York City; Miss M. Baker, of Atlantic City, N. J.; Miss May Connell and Mrs. E. J. Connell, of Bedford Park, New York; C. P. Russell, of East Orange, N. J.; Miss Sara E. Byrnes, of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. George Lowther and A. A. Anderson, of Greenwich, Conn.

TANNERSVILLE

Tannersville, N. Y., June 24.—The village of Tannersville is always rather dull during June because its summer patrons do not arrive there until the close of the school sessions in greater New York. The closing of schools during the last week has brought an unusually large crowd here, so that to-night the village is livelier than it has been at any time this season.

The most important social affair of the last week was the shirtwaist dance held at the village hall on Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Citizens' Home Company.

Ex-Judge Ransom, of New York, one of the best known summer visitors coming to Tannersville, has arrived at his summer cottage, and will remain during the season.

Dr. Lilienthal, a New York physician, who has a summer home here, has sold his home to E. Levy, of New York, who will occupy it for the season.

Mr. Max Wolper, of New York, who is also a well known summer visitor, has arrived, with his family, at his handsome summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Gabler and family are occupying their cozy summer cottage.

Dr. William Silverstein, of New York, is spending his vacation at the Blytheview Hotel.

In Ontario Park a majority of the cottagers have opened their summer homes, and while the fall will be a few cottages closed during the season, it looks to-night as though Ontario would have one of the busiest seasons of late years.

The Macey cottage will remain closed throughout the season, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Macey having decided to spend the season in Europe instead of at their summer home.

PALENVILLE

Paleville, N. Y., June 24.—Paleville has been more attractive than usual during the last week, because the rains of the early part of the month filled the streams and gave an added beauty to the landscape. There are more people here than usual during June, and the outlook for a successful season has never been brighter.

The Pine Grove House, the largest house here, has among its late arrivals Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Valner, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Maloney and child, Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. George T. Schinzel, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney W. Eldridge and child and Edward M. Weeks, Elizabeth, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. George E. Cutler and children, Mount Vernon, N. DELAWARE WATER GAP

Fishing and Outdoor Sports Popular in the Mountains.

Delaware Water Gap, Penn., June 24.—During this part of June the summer crowds begin to arrive in earnest. This week has seen every house increase in patronage and activity. Social gatherings and outdoor sports have taken on renewed life. Bass fishermen throng the river in greater numbers than ever before. The pickered season is one of the best in the history of this resort, and trout fishing is undoubtedly better this year than ever before.

The Lehigh Motor Club passed through the Gap on Wednesday with the largest number of entries that have ever been through this place at one time. Governor Tenor of this state and Senator Sprout were honored guests. They stopped at Buckwood Inn, Shawnee.

A big collon was held in the handsome ballroom of the Water Gap House this week. Several interesting golf matches have taken place on the Caddico Club links by guests of this house. The horsemen and women are greatly pleased with the riding academy. Mr. and Mrs. John Whitmore are prominent in society here. They are here for the season and have come well provided. A big auto, two riding horses and several canoes are in their equipment. Mr. Whitmore is a New York lawyer.

The Water Gap House is entertaining the graduating class of the Packer Institute, of Brooklyn. The girls are here for a ten-days' stay, and are enjoying the indoor social life, dancing and card games, and are also playing tennis and golf, riding horseback, canoeing, motorboating and mountain climbing. The weather during their stay has been delightful.

Other Water Gap House guests are Dr. and Mrs. Galendit, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitmore and two sons and daughters; Mrs. R. P. Lyon, Captain R. P. Lyon, and family. The latter are here for the season. The latter are here for the season. The latter are here for the season.

Dr. Lilienthal, a New York physician, who has a summer home here, has sold his home to E. Levy, of New York, who will occupy it for the season.

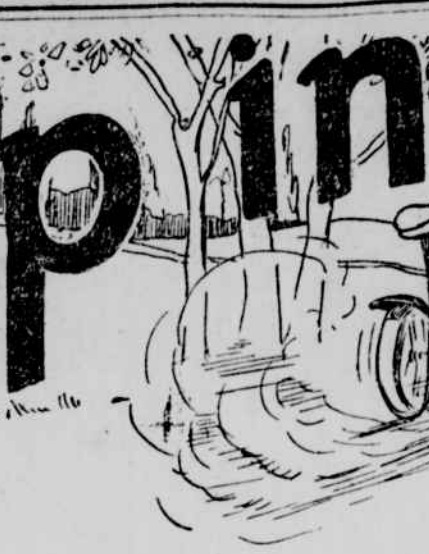

Mr. Max Wolper, of New York, who is also a well known summer visitor, has arrived, with his family, at his handsome summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Gabler and family are occupying their cozy summer cottage.

Dr. William Silverstein, of New York, is spending his vacation at the Blytheview Hotel.

The Macey cottage will remain closed throughout the season, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Macey having decided to spend the season in Europe instead of at their summer home.

CAITSKILL

Catskill, N. Y., June 24.—During the last three days the village of Catskill has undoubtedly been the busiest of the Catskill Mountain resorts, because, in addition to the large number of people who are being entertained at its hotels and boarding houses, there has been a constantly increasing stream of humanity passing through here for the other resorts in Greene County.

The Helbig-Golden wedding on Wednesday was the prettiest affair ever witnessed at Catskill and brought more prominent people here for the occasion than any event thus far this year.

The commencement exercises of the Catskill High School on Monday evening crowded the Nelda Theatre to its capacity and were enjoyed not only by the people of Catskill but by a number of those who are spending their vacations here.

The new auditorium is meeting with a hearty reception and is being found an attractive place by the summer guests.

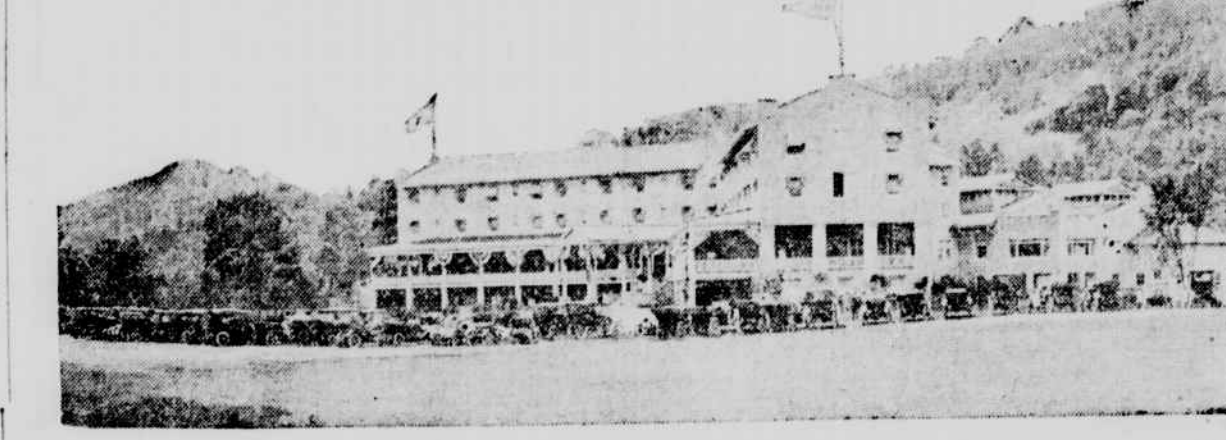

The busiest place here during the last week has been the Grant House, which seems to have more people than ever before in June. Manager Cornell states that his early June bookings are the largest he has ever had and that the entire season there, unless some unforeseen accident occurs, will be the busiest Catskill has ever seen. Among the late arrivals there are Miss A. A. Reed, Miss J. A. Harrison, Mr.

LEEDS

Leeds, N. Y., June 24.—Leeds shows plainly that it is one of the resorts in the foothills of the Catskills that are growing rapidly. Prettily located along the banks of Catskill Creek, it has a trolley connection with Catskill, so that it is one of the most accessible places in the whole territory. Leeds, provides a place for boating, fishing and bathing for those who want a larger body of water than the creek. One of the innovations here this season is the automobile stage, which will convey parties to the different points of interest.

The largest crowd here is registered at the Elizabeth House. Among the arrivals there this week are John O'Neill, Miss

STROUDSBURG

Stroudsburg, Penn., June 24.—With the closing of the schools the camera commences to arrive and pitch their tents in this section. Delaware Valley and Lake Poconomon, the camping centres of this county, are fast being dotted with white tents, and small villages are springing up. Near Bushkill is a large camp. A musical show is being arranged for the Fourth of July here.

Bass fishing in the Delaware is very good this season. Hundreds of fishermen throng the river. The trout season is still good, as well, and its devotees are thick along the banks of the favorite trout streams of the county. Broadheads Creek and Pocono Creek are the most popular. Pickered fishing is also very good here in season.

A lively season is planned for the Prospect House guests. A large crowd of New Yorkers are looked for next week. A party of young people spent Wednesday at the Water Gap, enjoying the river, and in the evening dancing at the Music Hall. Among the guests here are Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Carter and C. F. Melville, of New York, and Miss N. A. Tibbitts, of Elizabeth, N. J.

A feature of the week at the Berwick Inn was a large lawn party held on the lawn in front of the house. Dainty refreshments were served and funny games played. Among the guests were Mrs. Harriet Bush and D. S. McFarland, of New York, and Mrs. H. P. Lambert, of Rockaway, N. J.

The annual reunion of the 193 class of the Stroudsburg Normal School was held at the Maplehurst, Thursday. There was a very large attendance. There was a dinner, followed by a card game, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Reid and Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Over at Greene Lake the Greene Lake House, the leading hotel there, has one of the largest June crowds it has ever entertained, and the crowds seem to be having better times than any crowd found in the Catskills this season.

CAIRO

Cairo, N. Y., June 24.—Although Cairo has always been one of the most popular resorts in the Catskills, many people predicted that because of the numerous changes in the management of the hotels and boarding houses here this season Cairo would suffer a decline in its summer business. These harbingers of ill seem to have been disappointed, because there has never been a season at Cairo when there were more people spending June at its comfortable hotels and boarding houses. Next Saturday will witness the influx of the July visitors, and from then until after Labor Day Cairo will be busy day and night.

Manager Lock of the Maple Lawn spent the early part of the week in New York looking guests. Among the late arrivals are Miss Lella M. Kaiser, Miss S. Anderson, Miss A. Anderson, George J. Rohman and family and Mrs. E. J. Rowe and daughter, of Brooklyn, and Mrs. J. N. Stable, Frank Evans, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Richard-

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, N. Y., June 24.—Woodstock has long been considered one of the prettiest villages in the Catskills and its hotels have maintained a reputation for excellence that has given this season after season a successful business. The construction of an automobile road from Saugerties to Woodstock several years ago gave another impetus to the summer boarding business and was one of the causes for the reopening of the Overlook Mountain House, the highest hotel in the state.

The proposed change of route of the Ulster & Delaware Railroad, made necessary by the New York water works, will bring the railroad closer to this delightful village and will undoubtedly be the means of making Woodstock more popular than it has ever been.

The Overlook Mountain House opened this week under the management of E. B. Cosgrove, a capable hotel man, who is meeting with success and who anticipates one of the busiest seasons that has ever been experienced here.

PINE HILL

Pine Hill, N. Y., June 24.—Pine Hill is one of the most attractive of the villages in the Western Catskills and one of the most popular villages in the Catskill Mountains. The cottage colonies at Highmount and Belle Ay give it a social tone that carries considerable prestige at the other resorts and causes considerable interest in the numerous social functions that are held there during July and August.

To-day about every cottage in the vicinity is occupied for the season, and the hotels begin to take on the appearance of prosperity shown by popular resorts. There has been little social activity in Pine Hill up to date, but from now until next September there will be some affair every evening that will help to while the pleasant evenings away.

The Mountain Alderome, Pine Hill's latest amusement venture, opened Tuesday, with every prospect of being a popular resort.

Chancellor H. M. MacCracken, of New York University, has been spending June here, where he has a summer home.

The house will open Wednesday, and from the opening day until the close of the season will be busier than it has been in recent years.

The golf links are in excellent shape and some very interesting games are scheduled there for early in July. A number of the people who have bookings are bringing their own automobiles here this season, so that there will be much automobile driving in this vicinity.

Music will also occupy a prominent place on the amusement programme, and the orchestra has been strengthened to such an extent that the Grand Hotel will have an orchestra second to none in the state.

A number of prominent people have engaged suites for the season. Among those who will arrive next week are Mrs. Anton Stern, Mrs. Julius Kohn, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. FLEISCHMANN'S

Fleischmann's, N. Y., June 24.—Fleischmann's has had a more rapid growth than any of the resorts in the Western Catskills. When the late Louis Fleischmann selected a site for his beautiful summer home he was thoroughly acquainted with the Catskills, and his selection of a site was an excellent one. To-day the magnificent Fleischmann's Park, with the handsome residences and finest grounds to be found in the Catskills, stands as a tribute and a monument to a man loved by all who knew him.

The cottagers who own cottages here have nearly all arrived for the season and are comfortably quartered at their summer homes.

The reduction in rates at the Rockwood-Pines seems to have met the popular fancy, and Manager Miller will have more people there during July than have ever been entertained at the Rockwood.

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE

Shawnee-on-Deleware, Penn., June 24.—Shawnee-on-Deleware is one of the big resort towns of Monroe County this year. From a little country village of winter months it has, with the coming of spring, developed into a lively town. Not a day goes by that does not see something new introduced in the pleasure line. It seems to be one of the automobile centres of the state, by the numbers that stop and pass through here.

The parking space in front of the Buckwood Inn is like the termination of an important automobile meet on Sunday. The vast space set aside for this purpose was packed. On Wednesday the Lehigh Valley Motor Club's run was held at the Buckwood Inn. It was made in commemoration of the passing of the Sprague good roads bill. Over one hundred automobiles were in the run, and between three hundred and four hundred members.

An elaborate dinner was served in the beautiful dining room, and the decorations far surpassed anything ever seen in this place before. The club was accompanied by the Albion band of thirty pieces, which played on the lawn in front of the house.

Every day of this month some new event is planned for the pleasure of the guests. Buckwood Inn has done an astonishing amount of business since its opening. Many golf enthusiasts, prominent throughout the United States, have been registered at this house. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tillinghast have spent the entire season so far. Harrington Mill, the manager, is also proprietor of the Hotel Grafton, Washington, and therefore the means of bringing many prominent Washingtonians to Shawnee.

MOUNT POCONO

Mount Pocono, Penn., June 24.—With the return of good weather conditions outdoor life has again forced to the front in Mount Pocono resort circles. The recent rains have put the roads in the best condition, and thousands of motorists, reading this, have passed through this week. Mountain climbing and tennis seemed to lead in athletics, with horseback riding and diving close rivals. The courts of every house in the region were constantly in use by women and men. There was no rest this week for the little mountain burros, which were employed all week.

A tennis tournament has been arranged for some future date at the Pocono Mountain House courts. A delegation from the Pocono Tennis Club is expected, as well as one from Shawnee. Things have been very lively at this house ever since its opening. Many registrations were made this week. Among them were H. H. Schradt, a prominent New York business man, and wife, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Fallow, P. E. Kassell, P. Carroll and Edward P. Carroll.

The week was a delightful one at the Mount Pleasant House this week, followed by an afternoon tea. Mrs. C. A. Morgan was the first prize winner. Tennis is also popular at this house. W. A. Leach, the proprietor, says the season will beat all others in size. A few registered at this house are Dr. and Mrs. John R. Page, Mrs. C. A. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Wefferman, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Page, Mr. and Mrs. John Beach, and Mrs. P. J. Dunn. Mrs. E. E. Pollock and Miss Pollock, of New York.

The Outwood is one of the valley houses which is noted for its tallies parties and moonlight excursions. One of the features of the week was the dance, at which the music was furnished by an orchestra of guests. The house orchestra has not been engaged until the Fourth of July. Dr. Robert Cronin, of Brooklyn, a Brooklyn physician, registered this week.

The Meadows is the house which has the mountain burros which are proving so popular. The leading alleys here, too, are much used. Meadows defeated Fairview Wednesday evening. Registered here are Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Coale, W. L. Coale, Dorothy King, Mrs. Harry King, J. A. Maxwell, Mrs. Robert Meyer, C. A. Matthey, J. Louis Matthey and E. P. Suttrill, all of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Nichols will leave Mount Vernon next week for Lake Maranocook, Me., where they will remain for two months.

It was largely through the efforts of a committee of Mount Vernon women that $100.00 was raised toward the building fund for a new hospital in that city. They canvassed the city thoroughly and did great work. The committee was headed by Mrs. R. N. Carter, as chairman, and the other members were Mrs. L. L. Merrill, Mrs. M. J. McKee, Mrs. G. K. George, Mrs. John F. Fairchild, Mrs. Wallace N. Vreeland, Mrs. E. L. Pendleton, Miss Marie Cottrell, Miss Edna Aston, Miss Katherine Hickey and Mrs. P. M. Simon.

Some News Notes of Interest Gathered from Various Points in Westchester County
